A conviction or positive urinalyses testing will not automatically disqualify an applicant for a particular job. The type and seriousness of the crime, the frequency of violations, the applicant's age at the time of conviction, the date of conviction, and the applicant's entire work and education history will be considered. If the applicant is taking legally prescribed drugs that can cause a positive test result, this information shall be disclosed upon signing the test authorization form prior to the testing. If during any of these screenings or testings there are unfavorable results, the applicant may be asked to provide additional verification before proceeding with the application process.
